Pilot International is responding to meet the needs of communities and students across the globe by supporting the Goals for Grants & Scholarships Fund.

Pilot International Celebrates #GivingTuesday by helping to make a difference in those in our communities who benefit from grants and to students who are able to achieve their goals of higher education. Pilot International is joining people and organizations around the world in participating in this global generosity movement on November 30, 2021.

The season of giving has begun, and what better way to give back than to donate to Giving Tuesday?

With your help, grants have provided beach accessible wheelchairs for people with disabilities, a Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) Camp for campers and their caregivers, Project Lifesaver kits to those prone to wandering, therapy dolls for Alzheimer's patients, a "Safety Town" program for children to promote brain safety awareness, just to name a few.

The Pilot International Founders Fund has provided scholarships totaling over $1,391,192.68 to students around the world furthering their education. One of the requirements of the scholarships is that the student must be pursuing a course of study that furthers Pilot's mission to influence position change in communities throughout the world by encouraging brain safety and health, and supporting those who care for others.

Students like Shania, a doctoral student who plans on working with children with neurological disorders and delays. Shania says in her thank you note to Pilot:

"I would like to express my immense gratitude to you and the Pilot International Organization for choosing me as a recipient of the Maria Newton Sepia Memorial Scholarship. I am honored to receive this scholarship and will honor her memory by supporting children with disabilities throughout my career. By awarding me this scholarship, you have reduced my financial burden, which will allow me to focus all of my attention on my studies."

Your assistance also helps students from across the globe, like Anne Marie, a doctoral student from Sri Lanka studying Clinical Psychology, who plans on specializing in assisting survivors of trauma such as domestic violence, sexual assault and trauma. She recently wrote to Pilot:

"As I move into the fourth year of my doctoral program, this award is going to assist me significantly. I have been struggling to support myself through the upcoming year of the doctoral program and this award will be used to cover a portion of my tuition. I have been considering to discontinue the program due to financial struggles and I want to thank you for allowing me the opportunity to remain in the program for my last year. I plan to use this degree to the betterment of people in my home country, and the path towards this goal would not have been possible without your support. I am truly grateful for your generosity."

We need your help to meet and exceed our fundraising goal of $25,000 this year. You don't have to wait until November 30 to help! You can donate NOW by sending in a check with "Giving Tuesday" in the memo line to:
